

Holden Shawlette

Mindy Wilkes

When I was a little girl, our family always vacationed in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. I always loved the way the waves “danced” as they broke onto the shore. While on vacation in Holden Beach, North Carolina, I fell in love with the little waves all over again. Inspired by the waves, the Holden Shawlette is a simple but elegant little shawl. Constructed from the middle of the neck down, this triangular shawlette features an upper stockinette portion with a garter stitch border. The stockinette portion flows into a wavy lace edge and is finished with a picot bind off.

This pattern is perfect for a first lace or shawl project. The lace pattern is easy to memorize. Combined with the stockinette body, this is a perfect project to take on your vacations.

Materials

Suggested Yarn(s): Malabrigo Sock (shown in color Aguas)

Finished Size: 55 inches x 25.5 inches. Size is dependent upon gauge and how the shawl is blocked.

Yarn Requirements: 430-450 yards, 3.5-4.0 oz fingering weight yarn

Needles: US Size 6 (4 mm) 24 in or larger circular needles or size to make gauge

Notions: darning needle

Gauge: 18 stitches and 30 rows/4 inches in stockinette stitch after blocking. While gauge is not important as the fit is not crucial, changes in gauge will result in size differences and the amount of yarn needed to complete the project.

Pattern Notes

- The first and last three stitches of each row are always knit to form the garter stitch border.
- The written instructions do contain the first and last three stitches of each row and the center stitch of each row. The center stitch is indicated in red.
- In the stockinette portion, the stitch count increases by four stitches after each right side row.
- The stitch count does not remain constant for the lace pattern. Stitch counts should only be done after rows 6-8 and rows 14-16 of the lace pattern. Stitch counts have been provided for these rows.
- When knitting the lace pattern, remember to keep the center stitch in stockinette.

Notes About The Chart
