

Rochester Knitting Guild

presents

guest speaker

Ann Clarke

topic

A love of Knitting
&
What is Possible
with a Machine

7pm,

December 9th
Zoom Guild Meeting

The Rochester Knitting Guild is very excited to have Ann Clarke present "A love of Knitting & What is Possible with a Machine" for our Guild meeting over Zoom on December 9th.

Ann Clarke, originally from Rochester, NY, is a fiber artist who received an MFA from Rhode Island School of Design.

Her newest series, Interior Landscapes, is in display at the Burchfield Penney Art Center in Buffalo NY until March 2, 2025.

This exhibit includes large-scale knitted rugs installed on walls for museum visitors to contemplate. This series is influenced by the intersection of past and present, informed by the experiences of her mother's life and her changing relationship with time.

Guild members will be sent a Zoom link in advance of the meeting.

In person viewing available at the Irondequoit Public Library, room 113
290 Titus Ave
Rochester, NY 14617

Not a RKG member?

please reach out to membership@rochesterknitting.org for a Zoom link to the meeting or join us at the Irondequoit Library.

SCAN CODE to request an invite!

