January Program

Winter in Rochester means we're all hankering for the same thing—

Color!

Natalie Klein will present a program on use of color in knitting at the January meeting. Drawing on her experience as a graphic designer, Natalie will offer insight into the effective use and placement of colors in your knitting.

See you then!

President's Message

Hello Guilders –

HAPPY NEW YEAR! Welcome to 2020!

Ah, a fresh slate to fill with loads of new crafting projects. Last year I tried to knit only from my stash and was kind of successful.

I managed to complete eight projects AND finish a FOUR-YEAR-OLD WIP! That alone was a feat. I also purchased new yarn—but they were so hard to resist. There are a lot of talented dyers out there and it seemed like I needed to have one of everything!

For this year, I'm going to try knitting from my stash again. It should be easier because I still have a number of projects "kitted up" that did not get knit in 2019. One of these is a cardigan that I'm going to knit as a KAL with our fellow Guild member, Mel. Other plans I have include working on my spinning skills and becoming more proficient in weaving.

What are your crafting goals for this year? I would love to hear them so we can cheer each other on!

Happy Knitting!

—Sarah Shepard, President

Auction/Raffle News

January is a great time to sort through your stash to see what's there, make room for new treasures, and pull those yarns/books/tools that just don't bring you joy anymore. What to do, what to do??? Bring them to any RKG meeting from now through April for the yarn auction/bag raffle in May. We will sort and store all donations until the big night.

Any questions? Ask Meg Weglarz or email auction@rochesterknitting.org. Thank you!

Beating the WIP Syndrome

How many projects do you have in your WIP basket? Like most knitters, I have a few. In fact, I knitted a lovely red wool cardigan in 2016 with saddle-shoulder construction that still begs to be seamed. I don't know why I can't wrap that project up. Seaming is not my favorite ... perhaps, this is the reason. In any case, I've found a partial solution to combating the WIP Syndrome ... KALs or Knit-a-longs!

The KAL Sequence

The KAL sequence begins with an introductory announcement via Ravelry or in the designer's newsletter about four weeks in advance of the start date. The announcement may include a very brief description of the KAL project, dates when each clue will be released, and the recommended yarn (in most instances, your stash may also be used). The introductory period gives you time to obtain the yarn and partial pattern. The clue timeline is usually in two week increments which gives knitters time to complete each clue. At the end of the KAL, the complete pattern with tips is made available to the participants.

Where to find a KAL

If you haven't participated in a KAL, here's how: the easiest is to go to Ravelry where many are listed daily under Groups; all you do is select one and join the group. The designer usually moderates the group and will set up a chatter thread when each clue is released on the designated day. The chatter thread is where participants can post and communicate with fellow knitters or seek advice and help from the moderator. It's an open platform so you're able to read other knitter comments or view posted photos.

The Benefits of KALs

KALs are great for many reasons:

- 1) helps you stay focused and motivated on a project;
- 2) you get to learn new techniques via video and from the construction itself;
- 3) the designer is always available to answer questions or assist with helpful advice;
- 4) share knowledge with other participants;
- 5) make new friends from around the world who share the same passion, and
- 6) finally, YAY! You've FINISHED the project!

I just happen to be a great fan of Carol Feller, an Irish designer, based in Cork, Ireland. Her patterns are so well-written and spot on. So far, I've participated in three of her KALS and signed up for another in January. I hope you find and participate in a KAL – they're fun and rewarding.

Winter Hat Challenge

Rochester needs hats (and scarves and mittens). Every charitable group I talk to requests the same thing: cold weather gear. Winter's early arrival has compounded this issue.

I am challenging every member of the guild to make and donate at least one hat this season.

These small items are quick palette cleanser between bigger projects and a way to try out a new technique such as helical knitting. Holiday travel is also a great time to make something for someone else. There's also the quiet time of year between the gift-giving holidays and our January meeting

Use your own yarn or pick some up from the right side of the stage during our general meetings.

All items are needed for both men and women

- Socks
- Underwear
- Hats
- Gloves
- Disposable razors/shaving cream
- Travel size toiletries (soap, shampoo, conditioner, body wash, deodorant)
- Toothbrushes/toothpaste
- Lotion
- Combs and brushes
- Feminine hygiene products
- Wet wipes/baby wipes
- Small-denomination gift cards (phone, restaurant, gas station, coffee shop, grocery)

Rochester Knitting Guild welcomes

Lorilee Beltman

Four Days of Workshops: April 17, 18, 19, 20, 2020

The Rochester Knitting Guild is delighted to welcome Lorilee Beltman for our Spring 2020 Workshops. Lorilee happily sees no end to where knitting curiosity can take you, so she loves to help knitters make new discoveries. For the past ten years she has enjoyed her students at over one hundred national events, and she looks forward to meeting you in class! Lorilee is patient with every student and packs her classes with content and lots of extra tips you can really use.

Her articles and designs have been published in books, magazines, and online mags. She is a 2018 Knit Star teacher, the former techniques columnist at Knitty, and an online instructor at Interweave and at Craftsy where her classes are consistent best-sellers.

Lorilee is well known for her innovative ways of making old techniques new again with her own style of teaching them in different ways and really examining and understanding how each knitter is making their stitches. In Pick Your Knits and Purls (Sun morning class), Lorilee will help all knitters (even those knitters who regularly knit in the Continental style) look at your stitches differently to improve your consistency and gauge. I can't wait!

Many of us love to knit for those we love, right? One of the things that several of my favorite people love to receive as knitted gifts is a pair of socks. I can make simple changes in length and circumference to fit my husband's and my two sons' feet, but other loved ones need socks to accommodate different foot shapes and in particular ankles that differently proportioned to foot and leg than average. Lorilee's class on Socks for Ample Ankles (Sunday afternoon class) will really help us figure out how to knit socks to accommodate everybody's feet!

Registration forms and full class descriptions are available online at: <https://rochesterknitting.org/special-events/>

Library

Dear members,

Welcome to a new year of Knitter's Guild. Once again, I would like to remind you of the guidelines concerning the library and inform you of a few things that will help you when borrowing books:

Here is a list of guidelines when using our fabulous Library:

- Current members may borrow up to a total of 6 books and 2 DVDs at a time from the library by presenting their membership when checking out items.
- Please print name and current phone number on checkout card. A valid phone number must be provided.
- All loans are for a period of one month. Borrowed materials are to be returned at the beginning of Knitting Guild meetings prior to the start of the program.
- To renew your borrowed items for another month, please contact librarian@rochesterknitting.org to renew OR renew the loan in person at the next Guild meeting.
- If you wish to reserve a book from the library, please email librarian@rochesterknitting.org or tell the librarian at the next meeting.
- Items that have a waiting list are loaned for one month only – no renewals.
- Books and other materials must be returned in good condition. If an item is lost or returned in damaged or unusable condition, the borrower will be responsible for the replacement cost of the items.
- Overdue fines are $2.00 for each item per month overdue.

Donations of books, videos, patterns, etc. are always welcome. If you have a book or two, or any other knitting/crochet items, that you no longer use, bring them to a meeting and they will either be added to the library or reserved for the book auction in the spring. We are also interested in any old needles, crochet hooks, ball winders, or other equipment that may be looking for a new home, as we are interested in having tools that members may either check out or use at meetings.

Please remember that the April Meeting is the LAST opportunity to borrow from the library for the program year (September – May). Books, etc., may not be checked out and kept over the summer. All outstanding loans must be returned no later than the May meeting at the end of the guild program year. Special requests for the purchase of new books and DVDs may be requested via email or at a meeting. Library purchases are made following board consideration and approval.

Thank you all. And have a happy and safe holiday season.

—Barbara Gay & Lelanda Covill

The Cast On That's Pure Magic

Friday-April 17, 2020, 9am – Noon

Experience: Students must have experience with knit and purl and like trying new things.

Description: Estonians have been using it since the 1970s. Americans were turned on to it when Judy Becker taught us via Knitty in 2006. If you haven't learned it yet, here's a perfect opportunity to learn and apply the Magic Cast-On. What's exciting is all the possibilities it offers to knitters! We will learn it, then work our way through ways to apply it.

Symmetrical lace scarves? You don't have to use and pick out waste yarn. Shawls that start with a garter-stitch tab? You don't have to pick up stitches on that icky cast-on edge. Toe-up socks? You don't have to tighten up loose stitches from Turkish or figure-8 cast-on, plus we will learn a common wedge-toe and a rounded-toe version. Infinity loop cowls? You don't have to pick out the waste yarn of a provisional cast-on. Hems? You don't have to sew down, and you don't have to pick up bumps of a long-tail cast-on and wonder if you're in the right column. This is general knitting knowledge you will apply to many areas of your knitting life.

Lorilee can work with conventional knitters, mirror-image left-hand knitters, and combination knitters in a way that suits you.

Colorful Cast Ons

Friday-April 17, 2020, 1:30 - 4:30 pm

Experience: All levels are welcome in this class.

Description: When starting a project do you feel you're not getting to the fun part until well after the cast on? Try these colorful cast-ons to add interest to your project, and to add extra entertainment value for you, the knitter. You'll be able to apply the techniques learned to add a modern touch of color to your next garment. Or, by adding colors to the cast-on edge, you can introduce colors that appear later in the piece. The options are so plentiful that there is more in the handout than we have time to try, but we'll choose our favorites and proceed at a good clip. Although the class moves along, the pace is relaxed because we make small swatches. You can even skip one once in a while if you need a rest. Many are easy, but some are advanced. The teacher hopes to bring the beginners along on the advanced exercises!

Colors that Climb (6 hour class)

Saturday-April 18, 2019: 9 am-Noon + 1:30 - 4:30 pm (6 hour class with lunch break)

Experience: Intermediate

Description: Explore various ways that color can be added when contrast stitches climb vertically from round to round. These techniques do not inhibit the elasticity of the fabric. We'll play with simple zigs and zags, colorful cables, lines between lace, and purl-only columns that look like caterpillars. We'll explore its sketchy history; it is used in Rovaniemi knitting, as a substitute for duplicate stitch in argyle, and it even appears in a Japanese stitch dictionary. After class, apply the coloring techniques to existing patterns worked in the round.

Pick Your Knits & Purls—Continental Knitting

Sunday-April 19 2020, 9am – Noon

Experience: This class is suited for knitters with 0-50 years experience.

Description: When you learn Lorilee's brand of continental knitting, you will minimize your hand motions for a more comfortable, and perhaps speedier, way to knit. Each finger has a job to do. Understand exactly what motions have a bearing on stitch gauge (it's not what you think!). Learn to create even knitting by sizing your knits and purls equally. Learn how your choice of tools affects your outcome. Practice the knit stitch then move on to purl and ribbing where efficiency really pays off.

Fitting Socks for Ample Ankles

Sunday- April 19 2020, 1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

Experience: Students must be comfortable with cast on, knit and purl. Students must have some sock-knitting experience and be comfortable working with fingering weight yarn.

Description: Don't be left out of the fun of knitting your own socks simply because your ankles and calves (or those you knit for) are more ample than average. In class, we will discuss a few easy-to-apply strategies for customizing your own "plain vanilla" sock recipe, with specific features designed to improve your comfort. Continue in class applying the strategies to your homework with the goal of making a complete ankle section of the sock which may be finished after class and saved as a personal template. Does your ankle measure between 10 and 14 inches or more? You'll fit right in!

Totally Tubular

Monday – April 20, 2020, 9am – Noon

Experience: For the advanced-beginner to intermediate knitter. Students should know how to cast on, bind off, knit, and purl, and should have completed several projects.

Description: For crisp, professional edges on your knitted ribbing, tubular is the way to go. Students will learn and practice a tubular cast-on for both k1 x p1 and k2 x p2 ribbing. We will learn the method that requires no waste yarn nor crochet hook. On our swatches, we then learn and practice the tubular bind-off for each, so that our sweater beginnings and endings can look fabulous and match nearly exactly.

Cabling Without a Cable Needle

Monday– April 20, 2020, 1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

Experience: Students should be comfortable knitting, purling and following pattern directions, but prior experience with cables is not necessary.

Description: Do you love gorgeous cable knits? Do you find that working cables slows you down a lot? Even if you are new to cable knitting, this class is for you. We will learn how to cross those cables in various configurations without the assistance of a cable needle. Once you learn this technique you can cut out that step where you have to look up the text translation of the charted symbol. Imagine cabling without glancing over at the words to get them done! You may even encounter fewer errors as you work.

A tidy appearance is important, too. Have you noticed, in your ribbing and cables that the left-most knit stitch looks sloppy? Are you familiar with the term "man-spreading"? Well, this stitch looks like it has taken its seat and done just that. We will learn why it happens and then teach that stitch some manners! Class also includes tips for keeping track of when it's time for that cabling action row.

Note: Student should be comfortable knitting, purling and following pattern directions, but prior experience with cables is not necessary. Do you love gorgeous cable knits? Do you find that working cables slows you down a lot? Even if you are new to cable knitting, this class is for you. We will learn how to cross those cables in various configurations without the assistance of a cable needle.
